For the tenth workshop of the 7th Women Talent Pool (WTP), WIL Members Bożena Leśniewska, Executive Vice President Business Market at Orange Polska, and Charlotte West, Executive Director Global Corporate Communications at Lenovo; and WIL Fellow Céline Wehrle, Director, National Lead Advisory, Global Employer Services, at Deloitte, shared with our Talents why their areas of expertise - digital transformation, managing corporate reputation and new ways of working, respectively - were critical for every leader to have at the top of their mind if they wanted to lead with impact. Following their short but impactful presentations, the Talents had the chance to put questions to the three senior leaders in breakout groups. A dynamic session which highlighted to our emerging leaders the importance of understanding the bigger picture and how their work fits.
